

November/December 2015

The Centerpiece

CENTER FOR ADULT  LIFE ENRICHMENT

37 EAST ROCKAWAY ROAD, HEWLETT, NEW YORK 11557 • (516) 374-4747 • Web Site: www.HW-CALE.com

New Programs

Milestones in Music

JAMES KOLB

Tuesday, November 3, 1:00 pm

La Juive

La Juive explores the impossibility of love between a Christian man and a Jewish woman. The work, initially a huge success, provoked examinations of religious tolerance on one hand and religious stereotyping on the other. Falling out of favor, it has only recently enjoyed success again.

Tuesday, December 1, 1:00 pm

Bock and Harnick's "Fiddler on the Roof"

This is the 50th anniversary of one of the last great book musicals. Directed and choreographed by Jerome Robbins, it was the first musical to run for more than 3,000 performances including numerous Broadway and West End, London revivals.

Show Biz Legends

JOHN KENRICK

Tuesday, November 17, 1:00 pm

Barbara Streisand

"Try the sky cause that'll be me."

Tuesday, December 15, 1:00 pm

The Barrymores

The Royal Family of American Actors

Brown Bag Book Discussions

LIZ ROPERS, Leader

Wednesday, November 25, 12 Noon

Everything I Never Told You

By Celeste NG

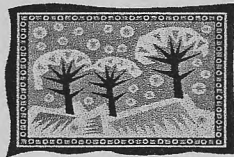

Achievement, race, gender, family, and identity—all of these topics are explored in this sensitively written novel.

Wednesday, December 23, 12 Noon

The Little Paris Bookshop

By Nina George

A charming novel that believes in the healing power of fiction, romance, and a summer in the south of France.

Masters and Masterpieces

MARY VAHEY

Thursday, November 12, 1:00 pm

Berlin During the Weimar Period

An exhibition devoted to Berlin during this period. The show explores the city using a multimedia approach, revealing this complex period through painting, drawing, sculpture, collage, photography, architecture, film and fashion. Exhibited at the Neue Galerie, October 1, 1915-January 4, 2016

Masterworks of Literature

MARVIN ILLMAN

Tuesday, November 24, 1:00 pm

A Doll's House

By Henrik Ibsen

Tired of being treated as a plaything by her husband, Nora takes decisive action in her search for self-fulfillment. Ibsen in this play fired a dramatic shot heard round the world.

Health and Wellness

Cornell Cooperative Extension of Nassau County
Senior Nutrition Education

Tuesday, December 8, 12 Noon

Enjoy Food from Many Cultures

Brain Games

DR. SHELLEY PAZER

Thursdays, December 3 and 10, 1:00 pm

A Fun Way to Stay Mentally Fit

Can't find your keys? Lost your cellphone? Or have you forgotten the name of someone you just met? Well, you aren't alone; those moments of forgetfulness are common. The good news is that it doesn't have to be a regular occurrence for you anymore. Dr. Shelley Pazer will lead you through a series of fun, interactive activities that will boost your memory and attention span. Stay mentally sharp as you get older through this series of fun games!